

Recognition of Prior Learning (formal, informal, and non-formal)

The recognition of the previous learner is one of the basic characteristics of the Turkish education system. Candidates placed in higher education institutions by the Measurement, Selection and Placement Center are registered with the diploma they have obtained from secondary education institutions.

Students who are enrolled for the first time in associate degree, undergraduate or graduate degree in teaching language partly or completely foreign language or in programs of Department of Translation Studies or Foreign Language Education Department are subjected to foreign language leveling and / or proficiency exam (YDBS) held at the beginning of the academic year they enroll.
