

| Political Science and International Relations (Master) (with Thesis) | | | |
|--|--------------------|-----------------------|------------------|
| Master | TR-NQF-HE: Level 7 | QF-EHEA: Second Cycle | EQF-LLL: Level 7 |

Program Information

MA Programme of Political Science and International Relations' medium of education is Turkish.

The field of Political Science and International Relations examines all the actors of politics at the local and international levels within the framework of their historical backgrounds and interactions. Main areas of interest include structure and functioning of state and international level institutions, their political and economic relations with a special focus on foreign policy-making processes. Multidimensional relations on the axes of cooperation or conflict among states and states and other actors are analyzed utilizing the tools of various social science disciplines ranging from history, philosophy to economics and law